President Printing Systems Division
Staples International

'Pauline's book: Present yourself with Power was not only printed on the best equipment in the world, it also contains the same high quality of content for readers who have to present.

In my daily life as president, presentations are a matter of fact. This book has tips for every stage of a presentation and for things I can change to remain relaxed whilst giving a powerful presentation. The presentation checklist in the end is very convenient.

I can recommend this book to all executives who believe they know all and have had media training. You can still learn more from Pauline.'
